

rich.gop

Rich.GOP is an open, privacy-conscious, decentralized social network, dedicated to honest, open, and civil political discourse.

This instance is funded and maintained by @Motoma

One of the incredibly important pieces of a decentralized social network is diversity of options. To that end I maintain a public Mastodon instance at <https://rich.gop>. This instance is free of ads, marketers, and stalkers.

I provide this service on a virtualized infrastructure that I own. I would like to improve that infrastructure, in the dimensions of availability, reliability, and speed. Users of a free and public tools shouldn't be beholden to a second-rate service. Here, I leverage my 13 years of professions distributed software development and hosting experience to deliver a first-class experience to my users.

If you would like to support me in my goal of delivering this quality service to the public, please consider supporting this site on Patreon: <https://www.patreon.com/motoma>
